

Zebra “2844” Detail

32

Citizen Product Marketing Department’s opinion is:

- The 2844 features sprung-loaded media holders ① which are a little loose but do hold a range of media core sizes well.
- The centrally-aligned media guides ② are moved left & right by a knob on the right side. They are very loose but functional.
- The top case is held open by a stay at the rear ③ but it is not obvious how to close the mechanism and this can be frustrating.
- Ribbon loading (TLP model) is in the top of the printer. ④
- The media sensor is fixed in the middle of the print area. ⑤
- Platen removal is quite easy although the clips are very thin and easy-to-break. ⑥
- Model shown includes an optional factory-installed peeler for very light-duty work. ⑦
- When closing the top cover, it is easy (tempting) to touch the printhead surface ⑧ which will contaminate it very quickly.
